

SLOW ME

BLANK

*Written by Younes Ben El Haj

I can't stand going fast at the times
My heartbeat rings like bell, silent and dim
I always thought i could make it on my own
 For forgetting embracin' thru
Wandering the lands looking for words to unmake it right
Chances flying, keep smackin' them all the time
Tell me something i don't know. Why can't u say
I know that's why you mind can't say, Ya know
 Lo'e, is like a sinking stone
 Drop it twice and it's begone
The story is different, i can feel it knocking
The story is different, bounce of lightening striking
The earth is spinning, with us time is moving
Slow me, Slow me, Slow me, Slow me
I'm moving way too fast, i'm getting away
Stop me thru, Slow me down, Losing myself
Its starting again, freshness of life glacing away
You Turning away from me, from my mind
Sometimes you can't be new but it's worth a try.
